

Beat the Autumn rush for Car Hire

Hamburg, 12.10.2009 – MicronNexus GmbH, operator of the leading price comparison portal, www.carhiremarket.com, advises to reserve a rental car on time before the coming autumn.

The days are getting shorter, autumn is coming. When the first leaves fall from the trees and the weather is wet and uncomfortable, it attracts many people to the south. At the same time, the trend is towards urban travel, especially in the autumn.

The price comparison carhiremarket.com expects a major car rental demand this autumn. Therefore, it is advisable to reserve a car early. Due to the economic crisis, many car rental companies have reduced their fleet and as such there may be shortages in the short term car rental offers.

Do not look for a rental car at your holiday-destination. Save yourself the time and the effort, by comparing prices easily and conveniently from home. This is also advisable as the car rental prices in the resort are often more expensive or the desired car may no longer be available. With most providers from carhiremarket.com you can cancel up to 24 hours prior to picking up the car, with no fees.

In the autumn of 2008, in particular the Balearic Islands, mainland Spain and Sardinia were experienced high levels of car hire. These regions are also expected to experience high demand this year. The leader is still the Balearic Island Mallorca.

Many car rental providers offer favorable early bird offers and unbeatable bargains. If you want to go on holiday in the autumn, then you should compare the offers now and find the best deal out, on carhiremarket.com.
